Tuesday, June 29. 1714.

London, June 29.
Yesterday arrived the Mail from Holland of Friday last.

From the Hague Courant, dated July 6.

Naples, June 12.

Letters from Messina advise, that three Maltese Gallies were expected there, to joyn two other Maltese and two British Men of War, and carry the Duke of Savoy to Pie-mont. That Prince will leave a Viceroy and his Savoyard Troops in Sicily.

From the Leiden Gazette &c, dated July 6.

Vienna, June 23. We have had a Report here for some Days, and it still continues, that the Lord Middleton is arrived here from Lorrain incognito, on the Part of the Chevalier de St. George; and that he is lodged privately in a Convent. The 14th Stanislaus Leszinski arrived at Buda: Whence he dispatched General Poniatowski, who arrived here the 1st: That General, with M.
Sternhoek Secretary of Sweden, had Yesterday a long Conference with Prince Eugene of Savoy; and this Evening they set out together for Burgerdorf to meet Scianflaus. 'Tis positively affirmed, that the King of Sweden joyned Scianflaus at Buda; and that they continue their Journey together, with a Train of 40 Persons, his Swedish Majesty under the Name of Count Bouwbarowski, the other under the Name of Count Cronstein: That they arrived Yesterday at Fifscheide 6 Leagues from hence, and will be at Wolkerdorf in our Neighbourhood this Evening: That they do not think it proper to come to this City, but that Count Sin-zendorf will go to compliment them in the Emperour's Name: That 'tis uncertain yet, whether they will take their Way through Silesia to Pomerania, or go to the Dutchy of Deuxponts. 'Tis said likewise, that there is an Accommodation on foot between King Augustus of Poland and Stanislaus, according to which the latter is to bear the Title of King during his Life, and to have sufficient Revenues settled on him for his residing in the Dutchy of Deuxponts or in France.

From the Hague Courant, dated July 6.

Seafhausen, June 27. 'Tis advised from Lorrain, that the Chevalier de St. George having received the News of the Death of the Electress Dowager of Hanover, put on Mourning, as for a Princess of the Blood; that he soon after left Plombieres for a sudden, and 'twas not known whether he was gone; but some had spread a Report, that he was gone towards one of the Sea-Ports of France.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated July 6.

There are Letters from Luneville of the 17th of June, which came by the Way of Switzerland, and advise, That an Express came to the Chevalier de St. George, that the Message he brought was not certainly known, but 'twas certain that immediately upon the Arrival of that Express the Chevalier left Plombieres, before he had made an end of using the Waters there, without its being known what Route he took; but that some had spread a Rumour, 'twas towards one of the Ports of France: A little Time will shew whether there be any thing in that Report.

Frankfort, July 1. Some Advices from Switzerland relate, that the Negotiation of Peace was suspended at Baden, till the return of two Expresses who were newly dispatched on an Affair of Importance, the one to the Imperial Court, the other to that of France. There are also Letters from the Frontier of France which say, that the Chevalier de St. George having left Lor-rain was gone towards Calais.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated July 6.

Valenciennes, July 3. 'Tis advised from St.
Clou, that the Elector of Bavaria having received an Express from Baron Malknecht his Minister at Baden, went to Marly on Friday last, to confer with the King on divers Affairs of Importance. Letters from Court relate, that they had an Account therefrom Baden, that the Imperial Plenipoten-taries will not by any Means consent to the admitting of King Philip's Ministers to the Congress.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated July 6.

Lille, July 3. Letters from Marly of the 1st of this Month tell us, that the King had been a little indisposed, but was well recovered, and notwithstanding the extraordinary Heat had often been abroad in the Park. From Dunkirk 'tis advised, that the Demolition goes on, and that the Magistrates having sent a Remonstrance to Court that for want of Commerce the Town was unable to pay its usual Taxes, the King had ordered the Intendant to ease them. The making the Canal at Mardyke is carried on

Dr. Stoughton's Great Cordial Elixir for all In- dispositions of the Stomach and Blood, the only Specific for the Scurvy, and all its Attendants, that ever was made, now famous throughout Europe, and sold in most Cities and great Towns thereof by some one Merchant or Trader. 'Tis the greatest Preservative from infectious Air or contagious Diseases in the World, keeping the Body in a due State of Health and Vigour, as hath been largely experienced in the West-Indies some time ago, and lately at Sweden, where it was observed that hardly any one who took it had the Disease, and few now travel by Land or Sea without it. 'Tis not purging, but cordial only, the best and most agreeable Bitter in the World, and most Gentlemen drink it in Wine instead of any other, Ladies in Tea, and others in Beer, Ale, &c. Prepared only by him at his House in Bartholomew-Lane, near the Royal-Exchange, London, having obtained Her Majesty's most gracious Letters Patents for the sole making thereof. Those Merchants, Captains of Ships, and others, who will send or take with them any considerable Quantity abroad, shall have Room for a large Frisk, it selling at a good Price, is well known, and highly valued of in most Places of Europe. It is so great a Cleanser of the Blood, that hundreds have been cured of Agues and Cholicks by this Elixir only, as has the Bile diach, which are now in French, Dutch and Spanish, as well as English: And 'tis desired they may be carefully read over and observed.
